

PARTICIPATION

Registration is limited to 80 dancers and 20 musicians, and we encourage you to register early to avoid a waiting list. Camp fills up, and applications are considered in the order of postmark date.

Dancers should have 1–2 years' experience with Scandinavian turning dances. We aim for lead-follow balance in dance classes, and instructors will ask you to change partners often. Leather or other smooth soles that turn easily work the best for Scandinavian dancing.

Music classes will be available for students at various levels. If you have questions about music classes, contact Peter Michaelsen, music director, at (206) 399-9066, or e-mail: spelmanuw@gmail.com.

Supervised children are welcome. For information about children's rates, camp or application status, contact:

Springdans Northwest

April 13- 16, 2018
Seabeck, WA

Springdans 2018 features Valdresspringar and music from Norway, taught by award-winning experts. We've invited popular Valdres teachers and one of the most highly acclaimed Valdres fiddlers, along with a powerful fiddler from Røros, Norway.

During camp, you'll learn Valdresspringar "from the ground up," tutored by friendly and funny teachers who love teaching. You'll also have a chance to refine or improve your Rørospols moves.

Wait, there's more! Teaching nyckelharpa at camp will be Bruce Sagan, the dynamic musician and skilled composer who has lived in Sweden and travelled there many times to study and play. Be prepared to dance 'til you drop.

Springdans takes place at the unique and unforgettable Seabeck Conference Center, located on scenic Hood Canal in Washington state. The center offers great hospitality and amenities to make your visit first class. Bedding, linens, soap and shampoo are provided, so use your suitcase space for some cool-weather clothing.

You'll dance in the Meeting House, built in the 1800s and restored to include a fine oak floor. Come see what brings dancers and musicians back to Springdans year after year!
